

Residential and Civil Construction Alliance of Ontario supports Simcoe growth plans

Simcoe (January 19, 2012) – The Residential and Civil Construction Alliance of Ontario, (RCCAO), supports the vision for growth in Simcoe County outlined by provincial Infrastructure Minister Bob Chiarelli and congratulates him for appointing the Provincial Facilitator to assist with the process.

The RCCAO is an alliance composed of management and labour groups that represent all facets of the residential and civil sectors of the Ontario construction industry.

“We support the Minister’s announcement because we believe it will spur economic growth, create much-needed jobs and offer a responsible, sustainable, ‘made-in-Simcoe’ approach” to future development, says Executive Director Andy Manahan.

“RCCAO congratulates Minister Chiarelli and the McGuinty government for supporting job creation and providing the certainty needed to get on with the job. It’s good for our local communities, and good for Ontario.”

“Our motto is ‘Constructing Ontario’s Future,’ because together we build the homes, roads, watermains and much more. This infrastructure is of critical importance to the residents and businesses of Ontario”.

“We have always taken pride in the quality of work that goes into building our communities and aim to collectively accomplish even greater things to meet the demands of a growing population,” concludes Manahan.
